

WWC Brandon Hills Hike Jan 11, 2020

It was a cold and windy morning when we assembled at the trailhead. The weather did not deter our hardy group of 8 hikers. For added excitement we decided to hike the selected route in the opposite direction that I would normally go. So off we headed in a counter clockwise direction. Ali, Jeannine, Cindy & Edwin, Fred & Jackie, Olwen & James plus Dover & Keefer were on the trail just after 10.

Unfortunately we did not encounter any wildlife. There were plenty of deer tracks and of course rabbit tracks. Plus possible unconfirmed coyote tracks.

(I did encounter this rabbit on the trail on the previous day.)

There was a quick stop at a newly published geocache for one of the hikers to get a FTF. (<https://coord.info/GC8J0M4>)

After 7 km of hiking we made a stop at the cabin for some refreshments. After that it was another 1 ½ km and we were back at the parking lot.

The trail sections hiked included Fire Ant, Burning Bush, Racers Climb, Wood Tick, Sidewinder, Broken Hoe, Blister, B-Line, Two Way, North Face and 1A.

We finished the day off with a stop at Forbidden Flavours for hot drinks and conversation.
